The Adoration of Jenna Fox

Question: Satirical way to make fun of society?
Curious: How did she remember all these fictional historical events?

Is "go to your room" a phrase
Claire ~~punishes~~ punishes Jenna with? She thinks so

Why does she call herself illegal?
Is she not human?

How WOULD they change her? She has been changed enough.

Does she literally smell death or does she feel that Allys's mom is outraged? Both work.

Any solutions that her dad didn't ~~have~~ have to go to Boston?

Black and white theme: alone

Need her telling her?
