Lady Macbeth: Manipulative, Malicious, and Impetuous

In the play "Macbeth" by William Shakespeare, Lady Macbeth was a character that was very greedy for power and would do anything to acquire it. She was very manipulative, having manipulated her husband Macbeth to a point of evil where he would kill anyone to keep his reign of Scotland safe. She was malicious to a point where she had no trouble plotting the bloody assassination of the king. She had the desire to harm someone for power. She did not think ahead to what would happen after the assassination of King Duncan. She did not think what would happen to her and Macbeth. She was driven to insanity while Macbeth was driven to the deepest cavern of evil. Therefore, I think she was impetuous as well. Her hunger and greed for power was what cost her life. ✓
